

000000000000000000000000

What is claimed is:

1. A method of giving gifts via online networks by utilizing communication networks wherein the gift senders select and give gifted goods to gift recipients referring to the preferable goods information on preferable gifted goods for gift recipients as selected information provided by gift dealers handling gifts based on the information on gift recipients registered either by gift senders or gift recipients.

2. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 1 wherein at least one information is contained in the registered information on gift recipients, selected from hobbies, wants, favorite goods, favorite colors or patterns, things they are interested in, recent schedules, anniversaries, family structures, sexual distinctions, and ages.

3. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 1 wherein gift dealers handling gifts provide gift recipients with preferable gifted goods information which is selected based on the registered information of the said gift recipients before the anniversaries of the gift recipients together with the information of the said anniversaries by using e-mail.

4. A method of giving gifts via online networks giving gifts by using communication networks wherein the users including at least one gift sender jointly own the virtual space and the symbols defined for each user in the said virtual space, and by exchanging messages in this virtual space, at least one gift senders among users select and give gifts to gift recipients.

F0502008860

5. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 4 wherein at least a virtual store is provided in the virtual space and gift senders select and give the gifted goods to gift recipients by using the said virtual store.

6. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 5 wherein gift dealers handling gifts select the preferable gifted goods for each user and provide the information on the gifted goods preferable for one user to the other user based on the messages that have been exchanged.

7. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 6 wherein at least one user among users is a gift recipient.

8. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 6 wherein the number of users is two.

9. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 6 wherein users love each other.

10. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 6 wherein users are doing omiai in the virtual space.

11. A method of giving gifts via online networks wherein communication networks are utilized to give gifted goods when users jointly own the virtual space utilizing communication network and symbols defined for each user in the said virtual space, the said users at least select a group of gifted goods to be selected as favorite gifted goods in the said virtual space, gift dealers handling gifts send gift recipients storage media including the said information on a group of gifted goods, gift recipients, by using the said storage media, select the favorite gifted goods among a group of gifted goods and send the information on gifted goods to gift dealers handling gifts via communication networks, gift dealers handling gifts receive the information on gifted goods, and by sending the gifted goods related to the said information on gifted goods, gift senders, or the said users give gifted goods to gift recipients.

12. A method of giving gifts via online networks wherein two engaged users at least select a group of gifted goods to let gift recipients or attendance at the wedding ceremony select their favorite gifted goods as presents, gift dealers handling gifts send gift recipients CD-ROMs containing the information on the said group of gifted goods as presents, gift recipients, by using the CD-ROMs, select the favorite gifted goods among a group of gifted goods and send the information on gifted goods to gift dealers handling gifts via communication networks, gift dealers handling gifts receive the information on gifted goods and by sending the gifted goods related to the information on the said gifted goods, gift senders, or the said users give gifted goods to gift recipients.

TO60201862600000

13. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 11 wherein at least a virtual store is provided in the virtual space and gift senders select and give the gifted goods to gift recipients by using the said virtual store.

14. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 11 wherein the information on gift recipients is contained in a CD-ROM and the information on gift recipients is sent to gift dealers handling gifts with the information on gifted goods.

15. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 11 wherein sending information including e-mail address information on gift dealers handling gifts in a CD-ROM, and when data contained in a CD-ROM are displayed on the screen of the computer and favorite gifted goods are selected, e-mail including the information on gifted goods is sent to gift dealers handling gifts by this sending message utilizing communication networks.

16. A method of giving gifts via online networks as set forth in claim 11 wherein message information, or a message from gift senders to gift recipients is contained in a CD-ROM.

17. A method of selling goods related to childbirth via online networks wherein a symbol defined for each user can purchase goods related to childbirth confirming goods at least necessary before and after childbirth by experiencing the process of childbirth including before and after childbirth.

18. A method of selling goods related to childbirth via online networks as set forth in claim 17 wherein pregnant women or married couples of whom wives are pregnant are targeted as users.

19. A method of selling goods related to childbirth via online networks as set forth in claim 17 wherein the virtual stores are provided in the virtual space, and users select and purchase goods related to childbirth utilizing the said virtual stores.

20. A method of selling goods related to childbirth via online networks as set forth in claim 17 wherein dealers handling goods related to childbirth present the preferable goods related to childbirth to each user by selecting the preferable goods related to childbirth for each user based on the messages which users exchange each other.

20502-EED-0360